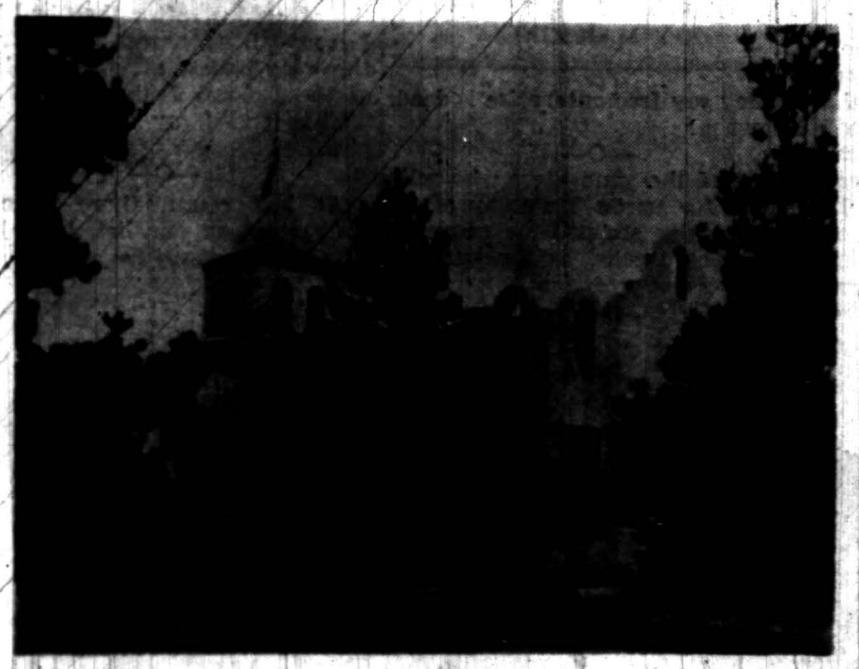
A Brief History of Sunset School



The original 2-room Sunset School, built in 1906 at San Carlos and Ninth.

The earliest recorded information on Sunset School is for, the year 1903-4. It was then a subscription school held where Elmer Douglas lived on Dolores near Seventh. The teacher, Miss Westfall, had to have seven pupils before the county would set aside a district.

Those first seven students were Mable Stallings, Angie Smith, Ivy Murphy, Myrtle Murphy, Jimmy Hitchcock, Mamie Hitchcock and Louis Lewis.

J. F. Devendorf, secretary of the school's first board of trustees, reported to the county at the end of the year that the average daily attendance was 27 pupils. Date for the formation of the district was reported as July 1, 1903.

Devendorf was the president of the Carmel Development Company, the firm which was responsible for the original plan of the city. He and Frank Powers reportedly filed the map for the city in 1902.

The second school was in a cottage at the southeast corner of Ocean and San Carlos.

The third winter, 1905-6, the school met in the office of a lumber company at the northeast corner of Ocean and Mission. The teacher was Miss Agnes Roehling.

In 1906, Sunset School was built at Ninth and San Carlos, on property apparently owned by the Carmel Development Company. The district's first recorded purchase of property was not until Dec. 28, 1908, when, from Elizabeth A. Foster of Monroe, Mich., it bought lots eight and ten of block 110 for $600. Mr. Saxe was the teacher for the first year in the new school.

In 1907 Mrs. Sara White came to Sunset. She taught from 1907-9 and again from 1914-16. Her assistant during the first period was Genevieve Pratt. During the second period she was assisted by Miss Betty Wand.

The district finally acquired the property on which the school was situated on May 27, 1922 when the Carmel Development Co. sold it. Throughout the years the district kept on obtaining lots in the two blocks piecemeal.

Ninth Avenue, on which faced the original building on the present site, was never actually a street, but rather a pathway leading from San Carlos to Junipero. The city sold the street to the district on April 30, 1931 for the sum of $10.

The graduating class of 1915 was 10 students. George Schultzberg, the county school superintendent brought the diplomas over from Salinas for presentation. Professor Preston Search gave the address and the children gave a presentation of "Lady of the Lake." The boys had made the shields and a cave in the schoolyard while the girls made the costumes.

Up until about this time the school had but two rooms. A third room, in a separate structure to the east, was added together with another teacher.

A report published in 1922 tells that the buildings had been freshly painted inside and out and new windows had been added. A Miss Evelyn Stephenson of the University of California was engaged to have charge of the Fourth and Fifth grades.

The present structure ,including the auditorium, was completed in December of 1931. The tiles on the roof were re-laid in 1933 and remained there until they were removed in September of 1957 because of the earthquake scare.

. . . And Four Thousand Ambulance Calls Later

By Jim Cardwell

Sometime this summer, Carmel's Red Cross ambulance will urgently siren its way through the village en route to answer the 4000th mission of mercy since the service began in 1936.

For a moment or two, as it passes, the siren will drown out the voices of those who attempt to say the old-time Carmel community spirit is dead—never again to be revived; for the ambulance and its crew represent one of the village's better heritages.

The ambulance was born on a Wednesday.

A newspaper account of the event was reported in the April 10, 1936 issue of the Pine Cone. The story reads: "A Red Cross ambulance, sponsored by the Carmel Chapter and stationed in the brand new fire house at Sixth and San Carlos, has been made a community objective.

"There was no desire upon the part of the committee to organize an intensive campaign to raise an ambulance fund, as it was felt that our village people, interested in humanitarian work, will contribute their time and finances without being prodded . . ."

Even though Depression's hard fist was squeezing the area, villagers opened up their hearts and pocketbooks. The ambulance was ordered.

It arrived on a Wednesday; it was put to work the same day.

That first ambulance had almost as colorful and exciting a history as the courageous characters who manned it. Some of their hair-raising rescue efforts resulted in headlines in such far-away papers as the Los Angeles Times and the San Francisco Chronicle.

Once the ambulance crew raced 65 miles down the coast, then with 250 wide-eyed spectators crowding both sides of the road, the crew used ropes to go 1,100 down a chasm off the road. When they came up again two hours later, they brought two badly injured women with them.

Both women lived; doctors credited the ambulance crew with saving their lives.

In terms of humanity, the first Red Cross ambulance—as have all the others—paid for itself a million times over. Doctors estimated that more than a hundred lives were saved between 1936 and 1948 as a direct result of rescue efforts by the ambulance and its crew.

Weary and battle-scarred from 12 years of hard usage, ambulance number one was retired in 1948. A new unit took its place. In 1950, a resuscitator was purchased to be used with the unit.

Almost before the resuscitator was unpacked from its carton, a call was received from a hysterical mother; her three-months-old baby was strangling. The resuscitator-aspirator saved the child.

No one knows, or can even estimate, the number of lives saved as a result of the combination ambulance and resuscitator. It is a

Committee Says 'Yes!' To Sunset Bonds

At the meeting of the Committee of Carmel Residents Tuesday night, chairman, Mrs. D. Douglas MacGregor emphasized that the Carmel Planning Commission and the Carmel City Council is unanimously backing the ballot in favor of the Sunset Site Acquisition Bonds. Mrs. MacGregor also stated she is ready to welcome any interested person who is willing to help the committee accomplish its objectives. One of the objectives of the committee is to overcome any lack of information, misunderstanding or indifference, on the part of the voters, regarding the Sunset School issue.

Committee member Fritz Wurzmann urged other members not only to vote, but to contact friends and neighbors and urge them to the polls to vote "yes" making their votes count toward the two-thirds majority necessary to pass the Sunset School Acquisition Bonds.

Mrs. Mary Lou Shively asked committee members to be ready to help any voters wishing more information on the issue. She strongly recommended that all residents of Carmel read carefully the Ballot Argument in Favor of the Acquisition Bonds they received in the mail this past week.

Bids Sought for Coast Route Culverts

A call for bids to repair or replace Monterey County's 19 metal culverts on the Coast Highway (State Sign Route 1) at various locations between two-tenths mile south of Granite Canyon and half miles south of San Jose Creek, was issued by the Department of Public Works.

Bids will be opened May 6 in Sacramento. Approximately $37,000 in state highway funds is available for the project.

Admiral C. W. Fisher, President, Carmel Citizens Committee; said, "The voters of Carmel should vote April 14, to buy the Sunset School property. This will not remove any property from the tax rolls. It will not cause any increase in taxation. The purchase will be accomplished by part of the revenue from the motel tax which is more than sufficient to retire the bonds.

"From a purely financial point of view, the value of this property will inevitably increase, so what Carmel is getting is a great bargain. Furthermore, there is no reason why the property may not be self-substaining until the Carmel citizens themselves have decided the details of its future use."

Carmel Chapter O.E.S. Celebrates Youth Night, Announces Dinner

Carmel Chapter, O.E.S. was honored last Wednesday evening with the presentation of work displayed by two youth groups of the Monterey Peninsula, the Order of DeMolay and Job's Daughters.

Julia Davis, Honored Queen, gave an interesting talk on the history of Job's Daughters and on the robes that they wear. Sandie Green, Senior Princess, Julia Mehringer, Junior Princess and Rhea Seaton, Marshal, were also presented.

Master Councellor Thomas Walsh of the Order of the DeMolay gave an inspiring description of the origin of their order and then introduced Senior Councellor Wm. H. Hammond; Junior Councellor Ronald Krutsch and Past Master Councellor Ted Russell. Russell concluded the evening with an outstanding presentation of the Flower Talk.

Announcement of the Annual Ham and Chicken Dinner was made, to be held this Saturday evening from 5 to 8 p.m. at the Cypress Club, Lincoln Street between Seventh and Eighth. All members and friends are invited to attend.

Tickets may be purchased at the door.

There's something that's grand when you take a command, and comply in executive fashion. That's what heroes are for, in peacetime or war — One's duty is patriot's passion.

And the man that's worth while is the man who can smile and go at the task 'til it's finished. But he's not worth his salt if he stops to find fault; true heroes have grit undiminished.

So do as she wishes, and help with the dishes; then go at the lawn with a vengeance. Wipe your feet at the door, and remember—what's more—she helps you deduct your dependents.

DOWN TO THE SEA

BY LES BOSSHARDT, Master Mariner

"I must go down to the seas again,
To the lonely sea and the sky." — MASEFIELD

A BIT OF SWEDEN:

Was just settling down to eat and enjoy one of the hamburgers that I like so well at Frank Cefalu's Torpedo Junction when I saw her lying alongside in A tier. Her being, by the cut of her jib, a North Sea trawler. I never did finish the hamburger, I had to have a closer look. North Sea she is, having been built in a yard in Sweden. She is 45 feet overall in length and is an exact replica of one of the famous trawlers that sail the most unfriendly waters north of Cape Horn. Her outer hull from the water line to her rail is bright and her superstructure is painted a light blue. What a superstructure, built like a Man O' War. A few of these vessels were built for the yachting trade in the United States and some of them were swum from Scandinavia to the West Coast of California. This beauty is "HAVSOKER," her owner is John Gunter of San Mateo. Understand she will lay in for a week before resuming her voyage on the Coast. Congratulations Skipper, for keeping your small command shipshape and in Bristol fashion. We like your kind to visit our marina.

A TWENTY POUNDER:

Back to the Junction and another hamburger when there was some commotion outside at the hoist. Justified commotion indeed for here alongside his boat that had just been in hoisted was Roy Cavanaugh of Salinas with a very smug look on his face, holding a nice, 19-pound salmon that he decked at a spot on the bay one-half mile west of the Soldier's Club. Roy is a regular and I, for one, am very happy that he had his turn at getting a big one.

READY TO TAKE THE BAIT:

Don Marshall, the editor-publisher of this here paper, spends a lot of time in and around the marina. There is that glint in his eyes that usually means boat. Wonder if he will be a rag man or will he boat the easy way in power. Of course all of this is surmise.

NAUTICAL KNOW-HOW:

Boater, did you know the variation on the Pacific Coast is Easterly and must be subtracted from your true course laid out on the chart to find the magnetic course? If you have no deviation on the magnetic course so found, you steer that magnetic course. If, however, you have deviation on the magnetic heading then to find the compass course to steer, you add if the deviation is west and subtract if the deviation is east.

WEATHERWISE

Unsettled weather with occasional rain will prevail through Thursday. The weekend days should both be clear and the wind should be a bit north of west about 18 knots at its highest point both days. Probable fog Sunday evening.

They say free enterprise is dead. Hogwash!

One of the youngsters who sells papers for us on Thursday afternoons really stopped me recently. For many weeks, as far back as I looked, he had always taken out 10 papers to sell. This week he wanted 15.

My eyebrows must have risen a bit, because he said, "I'm taking more this week 'cause I'm saving up to buy a tape recorder."

—o—

Then I remember when my two city-bred daughters visited me last fall. They saw all the kids coming in to get papers. When they saw that some of them were little girls, there was no stopping them.

"We want to sell PINE CONES too, Daddy," they chorused. To be honest, I was touched. Think of it, my own little charmers wanting to help out.

But I had forgotten to reckon with their environment. They had only seen one kind of newspaper selling.

When I looked out the door of the office just after they had left, I saw them across the street, throwing papers all over the lawn of the Dolores Lodge.

Thus ended my dreams of empire.

Dudley Nix Sees Stars In New Orleans

Returned from a three-week visit with his mother, Mrs. W. H. Nix, in New Orleans, Dudley came home full of superlatives for the players in the Davis Cup Tennis Tournament held at the Tennis Club in the Louisiana city. "Chuck MacKinley, the champion, played a really superlative game," Dudley reported, "so did Ralston, the runner up. But the footwork as well as the wrist technique of the new 17-year-old star from Texas, Richie, was the most beautiful rhythm I've ever seen on a court." Dudley got back to Carmel in time to see his daughter Joanne, home for the Easter holidays from San Francisco, where she is going through a course in elementary school teaching and continuing with her music.

Sherri, who is living at the Stadio Club in Hollywood, appeared recently on the Mr. Novak T.V. program and is currently rehearsing for an appearance in the Jerand girls, who more or less regularly sell papers for us.

Most of them, to be sure, take out just a few papers. But one lad regularly sells 60 papers every week.

We have no home delivery, of course. Non-subscribers must either buy from one of the newsstands or from one of the young businessmen or women who keep nearly half the price of each paper. Some of them have regular customers on whom they call each week. Others try the old, but reliable, method of asking, "Pine Cone, Lady?"

Each of the youngsters has been charged with the obligation of keeping his own accounts straight, returning the unsold papers in reasonable shape and being polite to people they meet.

By the way, there is only supposed to be one person at a time at each door of the post office. Occasionally I have found two or three hanging around the entrance on Fifth and had to speak to them about this.

Generally though, they're all pretty nice kids and we're proud to have them selling the paper.

Next time you have the opportunity to drop in at our office late Thursday afternoon, look around at the stacks of books the children leave here while they go out to "peddle their papers."

The lessons they learn while those books are here idle are not taught in school.

Judging of applicants for membership in the Carmel Art Association will take place at a meeting of the Board of Directors on Monday, April 13, at 7 p.m.

Application for active membership in the Association is open to artists who have lived within a 35-mile radius of Carmel for the past year.

Do Your Bit For Your Red Cross

Ted Fehring, Fund Drive Chairman for the Carmel Red Cross, urged all Carmel residents, who had not already done so, to take their contributions to the chapter house, mail their checks to P. O. Box A R, or to call the chapter to send someone to pick up the contribution. Mr. Fehring stated that a portion of all contributions to Red Cross is set aside for disaster relief and held in trust for such purposes as the relief and rehabilitation now underway as a result of the Ohio River flood, and the more recent Alaskan earthquake and tidal wave disaster in Crescent City.

Meet Your Candidates

Realizing that many Carmel voters will be unable to personally meet and hear the candidates for the city offices in the forthcoming election, the PINE CONE contacted all of the candidates and issued the following invitation: "Send us a statement, not over 300 words, telling why you feel you should be elected to the office you seek, and bring us a picture if you like."

These are the statements of those candidates who responded. They are printed exactly as they were brought to us, except for one case where the message was shortened to stay within 300 words. —Ed.
(Paul P. Hazdovac and W. C. Phelps did not respond. Speirs Ruskell and Hugh Bayless did not bring in pictures.)

For City Council

Eben Whittlesey
Incumbent

These are my reasons for seeking re-election to the City Council:

1. Carmel cannot be effectively governed, nor can interests of the great majority of its residents be protected, unless men and women with a real understanding of the City's history and needs are willing to serve on the Council.

2. My 22 years residence, four years service on the City Council and two years experience as Mayor qualify me to deal with the problems our city will face during the next four years.

3. The City Council has a substantial record of accomplishment during the last four years. Its members have worked together harmoniously, without sacrificing their individual convictions. Their accomplishments have included important changes in zoning laws to protect the quality of our residential community; repaving Ocean Ave. and other needed street improvements; adoption of a program to place utilities underground in the business district without cost to the taxpayer; purchase of new fire fighting equipment; and completition of negotiations to acquire Sunset School for public use.

4. I have been instrumental in the enactment of a motel tax which provides tourist dollars to protect our green-belt areas and acquire needed public facilities. I have helped to keep our property taxes as low as is consistent with a realistic fiscal policy.

I am prepared to give a large part of my time for the next four years to secure for Carmel a city government that is responsive to the balanced needs of all its citizens and property owners.

Joe Danysh

"Why in the world?" That's what they're asking Joe Danysh, meaning: Why in the world is this busy man willing and eager to take on the time-consuming responsibilities of City Councilman of Carmel?

It's a fair question, Joe Danysh says, and answers it: "The public affairs of Carmel-by-the-Sea involve creative action, and all my experience has been along such lines. I find it satisfying to take part in any program that involves Creative Action."

Danysh is referring to his background careers in art, business and human relations, rare triple-deck credentials indeed.

Born in San Antonio 57 years ago, Joe Danysh was graduated from Columbia University. He directed the American Arts Building at the New York World's Fair, and headed the Federal Arts Commission for the 11 western states. From art to business, he became Director of Executive Training at Macy's in New York, and thence to the May Company, St. Louis, as Personnel and Industrial Relations Director. Returning to the world of art, he came to the West as president of the California College of Arts & Crafts, Oakland, where he built a dormitory, and a campus art gallery and cultural center.

Joe and Sarah Danysh

Having first visited Carmel in 1932, Joe Danysh returned five years ago to stay. He and his wife, Beth, took over Casa Manana where they combine business and pleasure in a conspicuous application of the "creative action" principle Danysh cites.

"This is decision time in Carmel," he points out. "My belief is we can use what is new without destroying what is traditional in Carmel-by-the-Sea. But we must be alert, creative AND practical, lest, for example, today's trees become tomorrow's firewood . . ."

"And yet, we must remember that Carmel is for tomorrow, too. Its traditions are very close to being timeless in their contribution to the serenity of the human spirit."

control; to advance the work pioneered by those men and women who have served before; to participate and share in government —these are reasons why I would like to serve on the City Council, and why I am willing to take time from my family and my business to do so.

The rapid growth of California presents many problems. So, everyone seeks answers. First, however, we must define our questions: What kind of a place do we want Carmel to be? What must be done to have it that way? What do we want to do about it? What is the best way to do it?

The best-governed city is the one in which the electors take the most active part — by defining questions so as to be able to seek the answers, and then by voting. These things I urge you to do, for after all, Carmel-by-the-Sea is our city.

Gunnar Norberg

Travel Service

Today Carmel stands at a crisis crossroad, and commercial pressures of multiple sorts are trying to force it to take the wrong turn. Control of the course the city is to follow is in the hands of its governing body, the City Council. Because this is the case — and particularly at this time, when a majority of the Council is to be elected — it is essential that Councilmen willing and able to maintain Carmel's original character and purpose, be placed in office. In a day of decision, mere lip service to the language of the long-held "purpose clause," as stated in the preamble of the Carmel Zoning Ordinance, is not enough.

Gunnar Norberg

As I tried to do during my original term as a Carmel City Councilman — from 1958 to 1962 — I would try to do again, and that would be, to give real meaning to that Carmel "purpose clause" (which is Section 1300 of the Municipal Code), which says in significant part (as it has done ever since 1929):

". . . Carmel is primarily, essentially, and predominantly a residential community, in which business and commerce have been in the past, are now, and are proposed to be in the future, subordinated to its residential character . . . "

During my original term on the City Council, I was instrumental in securing the enactment of a regulation which then substantially slowed what I had called mushrooming motel construction. I believe new regulations are now most urgently needed if Carmel is long to retain its originally intended character, and I would try to get such new regulations enacted into law at the earliest possible moment if I were to be elected again to the Carmel City Council on April 14th. —Gunnar Norberg.

Roland Scheffler

Employment Dept. Interviewer

Why do I want to be on the City Council?

The question, I feel, answers itself. I am of the opinion that the men I have voted for in the past have failed to perform their Council duties in a satisfactory manner.

Many things have occurred during the years of my residence in the City of Carmel. The majority of these actions were not in the best interests of the community. Few indeed matched the frequently expressed desire to retain the charm, the atmosphere, and the slow, relaxed pace for which our City is famous. Rarely if ever are the residential property owners sought out for their views and recommendations on proposed legislation contemplated by the City Fathers.

There has long been a definite need for people on the Council who are not members of various groups whose thinking is automatically biased in favor of the plans and schemes of their business friends and associates.

We have long needed a man who is not partial to any organized group. A man of sober judgment and balanced opinion. A man who can listen to all opinions and then decide in the best interests of the whole community; one who knows the area and what it actually should try to achieve. A man unwilling to be pushed this way and that to the destruction of values treasured and cherished by those who have spent long years battling futiley against so-called change for the better. Our City Council has been influenced too much by those who seek to capitalize on this town only as a resort and not as a residential area.

Roland Scheffler

We need a man who is a native. We should make haste to change slowly, very slowly. We should consider and reconsider any and all attempts to hurry Carmel along the path of growth and expansion.

I was born in Monterey, attended local schools, and have lived in the area all my life, leaving only for a stint of overseas service during World War II. I have sold real estate, managed farm properties, operated my own business, worked for the Federal government and now for the State. Married, no children, a property owner in Carmel. I have ample time to devote to the task of defending Carmel from the efforts of those who would use the town for their own aims while intending to "retire" elsewhere.

Carmel needs Scheffler. And Scheffler wants your vote to elect him to the Carmel City Council.

For City Clerk

Hugh Bayless

Incumbent

I am Hugh Bayless, the present City Clerk of Carmel. Since I am unopposed for reelection on April 14th, there is perhaps no need to state my reasons for wanting the position of City Clerk or my qualifications for it. Nevertheless, I feel I have an obligation to the people of Carmel which includes keeping them informed.

My 25 years of experience in administration and management has provided me with an excellent background for the position I now hold. The successful performance of my work for the past year-and-a-half can be attributed to two things — my former experience in administration and management, and the real pleasure and satisfaction I have derived from my work. My home, my interests, and my work are in Carmel—they are Carmel. It is my sincere hope and desire that I can continue to serve the people of Carmel as their City Clerk for the rest of my working life.

As long as I remain City Clerk, I can assure the people of Carmel of the same courteous and efficient service they have learned to expect from my office.

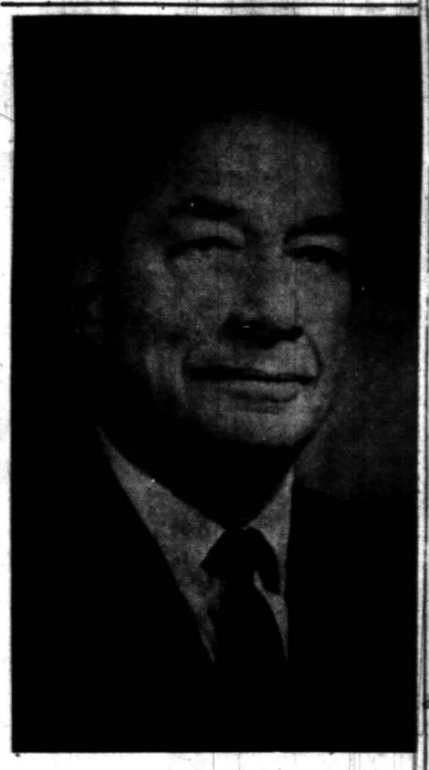
For City Treasurer

Samuel C. Coleman

Incumbent

I, Samuel E. Coleman, am the incumbent City Treasurer — a position I have held for the past six years. Before becoming Carmel's City Treasurer, I was City Treasurer for King City for 20 years. The combination of 26 years of experience as City Treasurer and 40 years of banking has given me the experience and knowledge to fully serve the people of Carmel as City Treasurer for another four year term. I am now retired from banking, so that I have ample time to devote to the work as City Treasurer; something that the other candidates for the office might have difficulty in achieving because of their employment.

On April 14th the voters of Carmel-by-the-Sea will go to the polls to select three councilmen, a city clerk, and a city treasurer, who with the two holdover councilmen will guide the affairs of the city for the duration of their terms of office. The city council, who appointed me in 1958 to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of the then city treasurer, and the people of Carmel who elected me to the office in 1960 have thereby demonstrated their confidence in me. If the voters of Carmel still have that same confidence in me, I can assure them of the continued diligent and conscientious performance of my work as City Treasurer.



Samuel E. Coleman

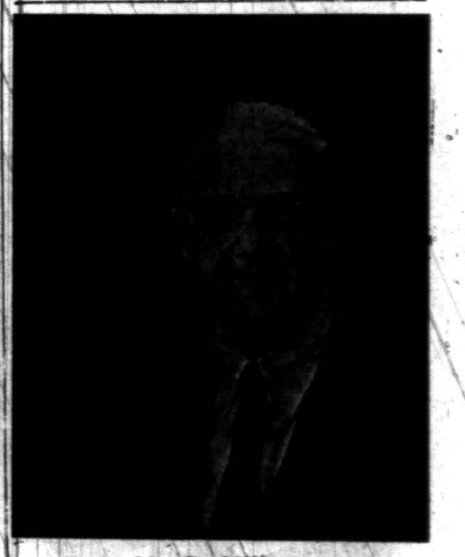
H. C. Hilbert

Upon the resignation of City Treasurer, Ira D. Hill, in 1941, I was appointed by the Carmel City Council to fill his unexpired term. From then until 1958—17 years—I served the City of Carmel as City Treasurer. I resigned only because of private business pressure. However, since 1963 having disposed of my interest in the business and having the time, experience and ability to handle the job as City Treasurer, I ask your support in the forth-coming city election, April 14, 1964. At the present time I am Secretary-Treasurer of the Carmel Sanitary District, working closely with city officials on our sanitation problems. This job will in no way interfere with my duties as City Treasurer.



H. C. Hilbert

During the years from 1929 to 1947, I was employed by the Bank of Carmel in the capacity of clerk and for 10 years as Assistant Cashier and Secretary of the Bank, resigning from the bank to enter into private enterprise.

I have two sons, Harrison S. and Clayton A., both of whom are graduates of our local schools.

I believe in community service, and have assisted as Boy Scout Counselor both at the Sierra Nevada Camp and the local Palo Colorado Camp. I also served as a fireman, and Secretary-Treasurer of the Carmel Volunteer Fire Department during World War II. I am at present Secretary-Treasurer of the Carmel Gun Club and am a former board member of the Carmel Red Cross. I am a member of the Carmel Community Church and a charter member and Past Master of the Carmel Masonic Lodge.

Through my associations and contacts with the various departments of the City of Carmel and having the experience and time needed to devote to this position, I respectfully solicit your vote as Carmel City Treasurer in the forth-coming city election, April 14, 1964.

Speirs Ruskell

I am grateful for the privilege of having been a resident of Carmel for the past thirty years. Durthese years I have tried to show my appreciation by serving our City and its youth in many ways.

For ten years I have been an active member of the P. T. A. I served one year as President and two years as Program Chairman. Also for ten years I was a member of the Carmel Police Reserve. For five years I was a Scout leader. In 1962 I was appointed to the Recreation Commission, and shortly after I became its Chairman.

Now the opportunity has come to serve you as City Treasurer. I ask your support.....

In 1935 I came to Carmel from my home in County Wicklow, the Garden of Ireland. During the War I served in the U.S. Army overseas. For the past 15 years I have been at the Carmel Post Office where I am on Parcel Post and Registry. Prior to this, I worked at Fort Ord in the Finance Department auditing and computing. I was prepared for this work by majoring in banking and commerce at Rosse's College in Dublin.

I am married and have three sons and a daughter, and participating in their activities gives me enough exercise to keep physically fit.

It is my desire to continue to serve my city. With your support at the polls, I shall do so in the capacity of City Treasurer to the very best of my ability.

PADRE PATTER

The G.A.A. volleyball tournament started on Tuesday, March 10, and will end April 9. There are about 90 girls participating in the tournament. The team captains are Chris Bingham, Robin Ekstrum, and Wendy Erickson for the seniors; Jean Ernst, Linda Lochmund, and Marilyn McKrill for the juniors; Pam Martin, Sue Rzeppa, and Orley White for the sophomores.

Last week, we enjoyed the annual Easter Assembly. The band and the choir performed several numbers under the direction of Mr. Farr. A barbershop quartet also entertained the student body with some songs.

The music department is planning many more other activities. On April 4, a solo festival will be held at M.P.C. Four or five students will represent Carmel High School. On April 11, a vocal festival will be held in Santa Cruz, and a band festival will be at Gonzales on April 18. The music appreciation class is going to attend the opera La Boheme in San Francisco this spring. Although the performance will be in Italian, the class will be able to follow the story because they are studying La Boheme intensively this quarter.

Recently, students from Carmel High attended a Model United Nations Security Council meeting. The meeting was held at Pacific Grove High School. Mr. Lyon and Mr. Moody sponsored the CHS delegations. Carmel High represented Venezuela, Norway, and the U.S.S.R. Richard Johnson, Jim Purvis, and Larry Sheingold were the delegation chairmen. The Security Council considered a resolution proposed by Thailand on behalf of Malaysia which charged that Indonesia was carrying on aggression towards Malaysia.

Plans for New Wing At Community Hospital

Plans to construct a new 32-bed patient wing to accommodate an additional 1,600 patients per year at Community Hospital were announced yesterday at the annual membership meeting by Vernon F. Hurd, who also was re-elected president of the Board of Trustees.

He said the new two-story wing will be built at the northeastern corner of the hospital. It will connect north and south nursing floors.

This work and expansion of certain departments of the hospital will cost an estimated $875,000. Completion of the project is anticipated in 1967 or 1968.

Also announced by Mr. Hurd was the starting in the next 90 days of a new 53-car parking lot on the north side of the hospital. He stated parking at the hospital has been crowded. The new area will increase total parking to 200 cars.

In discussing progress, Mr. Hurd said that in 1963 the hospital cared for 5,000 inpatients and 10,000 outpatients. This was a 50% increase over the previous year.

During the annual meeting, Mr. Hurd, Mrs. Allen Griffin, Joseph B. Fratessa, Cortlandt T. Hill and R. Stafford Hughes were re-elected trustees.

Recent reorganization of the medical staff into sections of special interest for greater efficiency was explained by Drs. Donald F. Taugher, Tom O. Morris, E. W. von Hasseln, Donald Dubrasich and Edgar Grunwaldt.

Former Gov. Leader of Pennsylvania Here As 1964 Chairman, Cancer Soc. 1-Day Drive

Former Governor George M. Leader of Pennsylvania, guest speaker of the American Cancer Society Kick-off luncheon to be held tomorrow at noon at the Corral de Tierra Country Club, will, as National crusade chairman for 1964 outline the crusade plans for county chairmen and precinct captains.

The all-out one-night drive is set for next Monday night from 6 to 8 p.m.

"We raised $55,000 in Monterey County last year for this vitally important work and we hope to equal that amount this year," states Donald F. L. Wald, Carmel chairman for the American Cancer Society.

"We sent 33% of every single contributed dollar directly into research to aid in speeding the eventual cure for this dread disease," stated Wald.

He also pointed out that funds are also used locally. Support is given to three County Tumor Boards, one located at Community Hospital where a staff of doctors gives free consultation service to Monterey County doctors and their patients. The Cancer Society also arranges for a special clinic to teach those whose larynx have been removed in a cancer operation to speak again.

Wheel chairs, dressings, hospital beds for home use, visiting nurse service for cancer patients are also provided by the local Cancer Society.

"We hope every resident in the Carmel area will join us in trying to wipe out the scourge of cancer. Your neighborhood volunteer will call on you. Remember the date, Monday, April 6th from 6 to 8 p.m." Wald said.

Mrs. David Smith is serving as co-chairman with Wald. Other chairmen are: Wes Ball, business chairman; Stanley E. Ewig, Carmel Rancho Shopping Center; and W. C. Phelps.

Area chairmen and their captains so far appointed are:

Carmel: co-chairmen, Donald Wald and Mrs. David Smith, captains; Mrs. Nadya Giusi, Mrs. Raymond Benson, Miss Judith Ogden, Mrs. Walter Gorey, Miss Gertrude Rendtorff, Mrs. Emery Adams, Mrs. John Francis, Mr. Cliff Phelps.

REVIEWED BY HARRY WELLESLEY FLETCHER

LAURELS TO THE POETS

Quite a few months ago, we said in this column something to the effect that if our readers didn't like our selections of poetry published under the flying Pegasus, it might be a good idea if better poetry were contributed, thus taking up the space allotted.

Poets from far and wide took us at our word, and now we are literally swamped. We now have a back-log of poetry enough to run us for months and months, and most of it of very good quality.

This being a Carmel newspaper, we try to give priority to Carmel poets, at least to the degree that is consistent with fair standards.

If you have sent in a poem, and it has not be returned to you, you may assume that the editor has not had time to send an acknowledgment, and in time your contribution will appear here. In the meantime, keep sending in your songs, verses and inspired thoughts — someday your offering will get to the top of the pile. The Pine Cone has no favorites, and we are grateful for your sustained interest and enthusiasm. —H.W.F.

LADY APRIL

(Suggested by a note in the Bucolic Press: The Editor regretted that he did not see fit to print a poem entitled "I Seen Lady April When She Brung in the Daffydills." Besides, he added, "So far as we can see, the Lady ain't brung in anything about these parts yet but mud.")

I seen Lady April when she brung in the daffydills!
She was steppin' light as air, and mighty pretty, too.
One white hand was holdin' up her petticoat of fancy frills
To keep it fresh and free from grasses wet with April dew;
And on the other arm was stacked
A thousand of these yeller thrills!

Daffydills? Daffydills? Quarter fer my daffydills!
Have a bunch of loveliness instead of springtime
doctor bills!
Sulphur an' molasses won't ever cure yer April ills—
Have a bunch of daffydills!
Posy fer you, lady?

I seen Lady April when she brung in the daffydills!
No one else was 'round about—and so she says, says she (A finger on her lips, and in a voice like murmurin' meadow rills):
"I am Spring's ambassador — were you expecting me?"
"Yes, Ma'am!" I says. She give me these —
Then off she tripped, across them hills.

Daffydills? Daffydills? Quarter fer my daffydills!
Have a bunch o loveliness, instead of Springtime
doctor bills!
Sulphur an' molasses won't ever cure yer April ills —
Have a bunch of daffydills! —
Posy fer you, lady?

Bucolic lad who coined that rhythmic line,
Take then with thanks this little song of mine.
You who perhaps lacked words and skills
To sing your thoughts of April daffodils,
Yours is vicariously this strange and old
Vendor of flowers, who, when he sold
Posies for coins of silver, gave back gold
In change. His treasure, that of one who wills
To live within—to know whence come the daffodils!

Finian's Rainbow Has Gala Opening Today

For the first time in the history of the Carmel Unified School District students will present a full-fledged Broadway success when "Finian's Rainbow" with an all-student cast opens this afternoon for a run of six performances.

The Carmel Junior High School production will open with a matinee in Sunset Auditorium at 4 p.m. There will be Friday and Saturday evening performances this weekend and the weekend of April 10, with a second matinee on Thursday, April 9.

Featured in the stellar roles will be Lory Swan with Geoff Cocks, both Junior High students. Lanny Eyre of M.P.C. will be a guest soloist, alternating with Geoff Cocks in the male lead. Pam Goodsell will alternate with Lory Swan in the demanding feminine lead.

Director Diane Hardy, assisted by William Purdy, is also responsible for costume design.

Choreographer Dale Lefler has not only kept to the original script of "Finian's Rainbow" as it was presented in New York; he has added original numbers for the cast of 86 teen-agers.

Tickets for all performances may be purchased at the door of Sunset Auditorium before each performance; at the California House of Music or at the Music Box on Dolores near Fifth. For reservations call 624-7805.

Food Fashion and Fun At The Warehouse April 9

Dorothy Dean Stevens will be director of entertainment and coordinator of fashion, from her own shop, Footlights and Fancy, for "Follow The Fold," an evening of hilarity, fine food and mellow wine to be presented by the Mother Goose Chapter of the Children's Home Society at The Warehouse on Cannery Row in Monterey, Thursday evening, April 9.

Highlighted in the fashion show will be "conversation" originals by Kay Cantonwine of Hollywood. Fashionables of the Peninsula who have seen and worn her provocative and highly original clothes, shown exclusively at Footlights and Fancy, need no introduction! Models will be local lovelies.

There will be uninterrupted entertainment throughout the dinner, (Chicken and bubbling wine are mentioned) and star acts throughout the evening.

Donation of $4.00 per person includes dinner, fashion show and an unforgettable evening. Proceeds will assist the only adoption agency serving all of California;—children in need of adoption and couples wishing to complete their families through adoption.

The Mother Goose Chapter of the Children's Home Society wishes to thank the Restaurant Employees and Bar Association, State Labor Local 483, for their cooperation in making the use of the Warehouse available for the evening's benefit party.

Tickets may be procured from Mrs. Bobbie Lee, 372-3174; Mrs. Lee Fonseca, 624-2398 or any active member of the Mother Goose Chapter.

CARMEL MEMORY

Through ethereal avenues of bliss we would walk,
Making all the atoms of a poet's dreams revolve
To the whirling, spinning, shining loss of talk,
We share in silent truth. And when
The clamor of a reminiscent harmony evolves
All the sermons that we ever, ever heard,
In thundering, thundering whisperings that bend
The thoughts said better when musing in word,
Around the light that lights this pretty place.
Only the hours that we cherish will I face.

CALIFORNIA REMNANTS

Bare branches break the pattern of the sky, a few marcescent leaves defiance wave at boredom with the black and narrow lines;
and show betrayal in their drying curves.

A maize of starching grass has covered up the emerald of a summer's growth of weeds.
A single lonely bird flies rings around one gay persimmon clinging to its tree.

A wisp of cloud is harbinger of fog that lavishes its cotton on the hills.
A charcoal night reveals a glint of stars, small remnants of a California day.

HELEN S. CHENOWETH
Los Altos, California.

CONTAINED?

How can I contain myself walking on this patterned sand, looking up to Cypress trees and mountains that expand into sky-filled piles of cotton-clouds;
then off to sea's horizon and skimming back to ruffled sand?

THEY STILL MAY SHINE

How dull it is to pause, to make an end,
To rest unburnished, not to shine in use.
—Ulysses, Tennyson.

Voyages succeed each other until one ends
In harbor. Rested, the crew may sail
To nearby ports. Adventure still sends Signals youth missed. The years curtail
Desire and turn it to a peaceful use.
Wisdom content in narrower confine
Flows like a river by gateways of a sluice.
Mature men speak in councils where they shine.

IDYL HOUR

I rest on rock near running brook,
With the friendship of a book.
Golden sunlight in my eyes,
Shining down from cloud-flecked skies.
Rippling water laves my toes,
Pungent pine scent fills my nose.
Ears rejoiced at songs of birds,
And the lowing of the herds.
Grassy stalk to taste so sweet,
To be alive is such a treat.

Artists are requested to send name, address and title of works and prices to Mrs. Ben Bingaman, Box 1116, Salinas, before April 10. Works should be brought to the Montgomery Ward building on Friday morning, April 17. Those artists having easels for display purposes are asked to bring them along.

Virginia Lee Novel to Be Reviewed Tomorrow Eve

"The House That Tai Ming Built" telling a story that goes from Canton, China, to Grant Avenue and California Street in San Francisco, is the book to be reviewed at 7:30 tomorrow evening at the Church of the Wayfarer by Dr. K. Fillmore Gray. This is the second in a series of three reviews sponsored by the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the church.

Virginia Lee is the author of this novel which takes her characters from their ancestral home in China to San Francisco, Miss Lee's birthplace.

Co-hostesses during the coffee and dessert hour following the review will be Mrs. Leslie E. Dixon and Mrs. Gordon W. Lundeen, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Rudd Crawford, Dr. and Mrs. Nello Torri, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald G. Roberts. Presiding at the coffee table will be Mrs Elmer W. Armfield, Mrs. Herbert L. Myers, Mrs. Michael J. Kosty, and Mrs. John R. Christie.

Single admission tickets for the reviews are $1.00.

Final Meetings for Carmel Great Decisions Group

With next Sunday's meeting at Carmel Foundation Town House, Carmel's Great Decisions Groups will go into their last week, with the final meeting, Sunday, April 12.

The last week of the annual Foreign Policy Association discussion program concerns ideological warfare. Exact tabulation of all ballots from Carmel, Carmel Valley, Monterey and Pacific Grove will then be forwarded direct to legislators from this area in Sacramento and Washington by the Discussion Center of the Monterey Peninsula of which Mrs. David Stevens of Monterey is chairman and Mrs. Marion Towner of Carmel secretary.

Carmel's 'Great Decisions' discussion group balloting during the past three weeks has considered how the U.S. should deal with Castro in Cuba and Sukarno in Indonesia, and what changes might be made in general U.S. foreign policy. The difficulty of the questions is reflected in the lack of unanimity in the balloting and an unusual number of write-in suggestions.

One-third of the votes would press our allies to halt all trade with Cuba, one-third would have us help Cuban exiles to overthrow Castro. Only 4 percent favor U.S. invasion of Cuba. A 46 per cent vote would use the OAS to meet the challenge of Castroism in other Latin American countries, nobody would ignore the threat of Communism there entirely, and a large number of write-in suggestions concern offering moral support to Latin American governments in their anti-Castro stands.

Two-thirds of the ballots would have the U.S. maintain correct but cool relations with Indonesia and, when events warrant it, indicate disapproval of Sukarno's policies. A fifty per cent yes vote respects Indonesia's policy of non-alignment, while an 82 per cent vote supports Malaysia against Indonesia, with nobody voting to support Indonesia against Malaysia. Nobody wishes to discontinue all aid indefinitely to important Indonesia.

In questions of sending U.S. aid abroad there is unanimous feeling that it should be given when an underdeveloped country can effectively utilize it to promote economic progress and is willing to engage in substantial self-help effort. The amount of such aid should be tailored to meet development and military assistance needs, reducing or increasing it as the situations warrant. It is felt by all that technical assistance does the most effective job in the foreign aid program, with the Peace Corps highly valued by 66 per cent of the discussion group members.

18-Year-Old Pianist Gives Free Recital At Saratoga

Compositions by five of the great masters—Bach, Brahms, Beethoven, Schubert, and Chopin — will comprise the program to be played by 18-year-old Paul Albert Mihaly in a free piano recital at Villa Montalvo Carriage House Theatre in Saratoga on Sunday, April 12, at 3 p.m.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Mihaly of Santa Rosa, Paul was selected for this performance after he participated in the annual auditions conducted by the Montalvo Music Committee earlier this year. He started playing piano by ear at the age of five, and six months later formal training was begun with Irene Fryer, with whom he studied for 10 years.

Last month, young Mihaly was awarded a full tuition scholarship at the Conservatory of Music in San Francisco by the Ford Foundation, just two years after he began studying there with Adolph Baller. Previously he studied with Gyorgy Sandor at the Music Academy of the West in Santa Barbara.

He has won two top awards in recitals in his home town, including the Santa Rosa Press-Democrat Etude Music Scholarship and the Lillian Hodghead Award. He also has been soloist with the Sonoma County Junior and Symphony orchestras, performed on San Francisco radio musical programs and elsewhere. During his school years, Paul played at the State Music Festival and won several command performances.

Also free to the public are the art shows conducted at Villa Montalvo by the Gallery Committee, available to be seen Tuesday through Sunday, 1:30 to 4:30 p.m.

There are more than 700 registered historical landmarks in California.

The Sur Coast

By ELIZABETH FULLER JONES

"Spring Storm", a large oil painting, the work of Big Sur artist Cyril M. Brown, is presently on display at Post's Rancho Sierra Mar. The painting, hung over the great stone fireplace, is framed with wood taken from an old barn on the vast Post Ranch. The wood, well over 100 years old, is weathered, filled with nail holes and has taken on a certain beauty of its own during the many years of exposure to the elements. Brown is a regular exhibitor of his work at Post's well-known Sur Country restaurant. Among his other current works on exhibit are several colorful spring bouquets.

A recent visitor in Big Sur and other areas of the Sur coastal country, was Marmi Grezzi Lavorati of Viareggio, Italy. Lavorati included a visit to this area while in the United States representing his export-import company "Edilmarmo." The Edilmarmo Company has extensive marble and other stone quarries near Viareggio and their representative was introducing their products to interested individuals in this country.

The Monterey Bay Area Council of the Boy Scouts of America recently received ,as a gift, 80 acres of land adjoining their Pico Blanco Scout camp, situated 14 miles up the Palo Colorado Canyon Road off Highway 1. The land, a gift from Mrs. Wilhelmine Grund of San Francisco, is heavily wooded and will remain in its natural state. The present intention is to use it for primitive scouting activities.

Nepenthe, Big Sur's famed restaurant, opened yesterday for the spring, summer and fall season. It is now open every day (except Monday) from noon until midnight. During the coming months there will be programs of chamber music, drama readings and art shows.

MPC Student Enrollment Shows Sharp Increase

Enrollment figures at Monterey Peninsula College now tota 3,734, a sharp rise over a year ago, according to Registrar Louise White.

The increase of 481 students over total day and evening enrollment in Spring, 1963, reflects a greater retention of students from the fall to the spring semester, plus a continually increasing enrollment of new students.

The number of day students reached 1513, up 138 over Spring, 1963, enrollment of 1,375. A total of 2,234 Peninsula citizens signed up for 103 evening division courses this spring, compared to 1,878 last spring.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Marjorie Marshall, dean of students, called attention to the fact that the 142 students who qualified for the Dean's List at the end of the fall semester compared to 129 last year. Qualifying for high honors with grade point averages over 3.50 were 36 students. The honors list, which called for grade point averages of 3.0 to 3.49, included 106 students.

Barney Laiolo Gives Last Call For Little Leaguer's

This Saturday will be the last try-out for boys who want to play baseball in the '64 season with the Carmel Little League.

President Barney Laiolo states that all boys new to the league, or boys who played on farm teams last year must come to the try-outs. The final try-out will be held at 1 p.m. on the girls' field at Carmel Junior High School. "Be ready on opening day, April 25, when the umpire calls, Play Ball" is the challenge to all young twirlers.

matter of record, however, that of 1800 calls made by the second ambulance, 609 of them required use of the breathing instrument.

The ambulance in use today is the third one purchased by the Red Cross. Less than five years old, it has already logged over a thousand runs.

Last year alone, the ambulance and its volunteer crew answered 253 cries for help.

It rolls night or day, hot or cold, rain or shine; it rolls with an average of three men . . . and its average dispatch time from the moment the call is received until it is on its way is 45 seconds.

The men who manned the first and second Red Cross ambulances have all retired from active ambulance duty, although, like old war horses they sometimes respond automatically to the sound of the trumpet.

Today there is an entirely new group of volunteers, just as colorful, just as courageous, and just as concerned with the well being of their village as the old Carmelites.

Past, present, and future—they intend to keep the Carmel spirit alive.

● Emilio Odello and his family travelled to Walnut Creek on Palm Sunday to congratulate Mrs. Elizabeth Hollis Palmer on the 25th anniversary of the opening of her school there. Mrs. Palmer was the daughter of the late Caroline Hollis one of Carmel Highlands earliest residents.

As the teacher in the one-room Bay School from 1924 to 1937, Elizabeth was known and loved by her pupils who are parents now, with their children pupils in the little school, now boasting three rooms.

During the silver anniversary reception in Walnut Creek Mrs. Palmer dedicated the new auditorium to the memory of her mother. Decorations throughout the school included a number of Mrs. Palmer's beautiful wood-carvings.

● Dr. and Mrs. Remsen Bird spent part of the Easter holidays in San Francisco, stopping at the Clift Hotel, a long time favorite hostelry for Carmelites travelling to Baghdad-by-the-Sea.

FOR A FAMILY WITH TASTE AND MEANS
We offer one of the loveliest homes in THE prestige location of Carmel, long preferred by local professional people and executive-level families. Beautifully designed and built by quality craftsmen under the personal supervision of the present owner, this friendly, gracious home has acquired a patina only a home lived in and loved (and perfectly maintained) can achieve.
The acre of ground on which it was so beautifully placed some 25 years ago has been developed into a virtual park; and even if we could duplicate this residence, only time and a very great deal of money could reproduce the grounds.
Factually, there are four bedrooms and three baths, a splendid, completely equipped kitchen and, in addition to the formal living room, a spacious terrace room with a complete bar, with three exposures to the lovely gardens. The master bedroom is really a private world, with its own fireplace, deck and his-her dressing rooms. Storage areas are excellent. If you appreciate quality and can afford to indulge your tastes, we will be pleased to present this handsome home to you. The price is $98,500.

Open House Celebration At Bay School Sunday

The Carmel Parent Cooperative Nursery School at the Bay School (the Little Red School House) on Highway 1, will hold a Victory Party open house next Sunday afternoon from three to five o'clock.

The diminutive students, parents, grandparents, big brothers and sisters and in fact all those who have fond memories of a little red school house are invited to come and see the wonderful new room that has been added to the school, the result of a dozen years of planning and fund raising on the part of parents, Bay School alumni and teachers.

It was in 1952, when the nursery school moved from its quarters in the Carmel Youth Center to the old Bay School, that plans for an additional room were born. Re-habilitation of the school in 1952 cost $2500. It was estimated that the additional room would cost $10,000. Parents of successive classes of toddlers have never given up working toward the goal.

The present room, a miracle if ingenuity and contemporary know-how is designed first and foremost to 'fit' the students. Architectural designers John Cocker and John Howard Gamble, both of Carmel have given their professional talent and untold hours of on the scene advice in the creation of the unique room.

On the north side of the Little Red School House the addition faces one of he finest stands of eucalyptus trees in this part of the country. Little French doors, child-high, serve both as doors and windows, leading on to a wide balcony porch. Stairs are scaled for children, being wider and shallower than ordinary ones. There is a many cupboarded mothers' corner with counter space for preparing juices and finger paints.

Girl Scouts' Dads to Be Honored Tomorrow

Carmel Girl Scout and Brownie Troops will hold their annual Father-Daughter dinner party tomorrow evening at Carmel Junior High School when doting Dads will view the handiwork of their daughters' Scout projects, carried out through the past year. Dinner will be served at 6 p.m.

Reports of outstanding accomplishment have come to the Pine Cone from three Troops:

Troop 2063, under the leadership of Mrs. Hugh E. Smith, spent a busy month helping at Town House. The girls assisted at the teas, made favors for a luncheon, and presented a program of Folk Songs from around the world. All troop members participated in the program. Judy Ale and Ginny Smith accompanied the group on their ukeleles. There were guitar solos by Kathy Fisher and Lisa Smith.

The Troop's next project will be a First Aid Course.

Troop 2118 helped celebrate Girl Scout Week by visiting Susan Hopper—one of their members who was in the Peninsula Community Hospital with a broken leg. The girls visited Susan every week so that she wouldn't miss out on her Scouting activities. Susan is working on her Scout badges while recuperating. She has sold at least 46 boxes of Girl Scout cookies to friends at the hospital.

Troop 2118 is led by Mrs. Donald R. Hays. They are also making marionettes and have done extensive outdoor hiking and spent a day at the Pinnacles with Troop 2063. They have their own kiln and plan to be instructed in primitive pottery soon.

Troop 2009, whose leader is Mrs. Richard Robinson has as its service project assisting the Resource for the Blind and Partially Sighted Program at the Del Rey Woods School. This wonderful program is under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Shaper. The Scouts have made bean bags with bells attached, have collected rocks and pieces of fabric with interesting textures for the children to handle. They are making plaster casts of the footprints of the animal and bird life on the shore as well as children's hand prints, to help the students of the Blind and Partially Sighted Program to become better acquainted with their surroundings. The Troop also paid a visit to the classroom at Del Rey Woods School.
